THE CASEY OF ADOLPHUSTOWN

As one would naturally expect, the Casey family, early settlers in Adolphustown Township, has its origin in Ireland. Thomas Casey, the earliest known member of the family in question, and who was born in the province of Ulster in 1636, was the sole survivor of a family which was destroyed in the Irish massacre of October 23rd, 1641. Thomas was rescued by an uncle and spirited out of the country to relatives in Gloucestershire, England. In his youth Thomas emigrated to America and settled at Newport, Rhode Island, where he married and where he died at the age of 81 years. Samuel, his third son, who was born in the same community, married Dorcas Ellis. Their son, Samuel, Junior, who married Martha Martin, was also born in Newport, where he appears to have learned the trade of silversmithing. After his marriage he removed to Little Rest (now Kingston), Rhode Island, where he gained considerable prominence in his calling. Extant examples of his craftsmanship in silver are highly prized in the United States, and connoisseurs consider them to be outstanding examples of early American silver. His life as a silversmith has been described by William D. Miller in his interesting book, "The Silversmith of Little Rest," which gives an account of the prosecution of Casey as a counterfeiter--an affair which terminated his career in Little Rest. As a result of this prosecution he, with the connivance of friends, fled from the community, and is presumed to have sought refuge in Vermont which was at that time being opened for colonization. Little further is known of Samuel Casey, the silversmith, other than that his widow and her surviving children fled to Canada shortly after the end of the American Revolution.

The silversmith's children, Willet, William and Mary, wife of Edward Barker, became early settlers in Adolphustown and exerted a great influence on its cultural development. Willet, the younger son, was the first to arrive. Although he is stated to have remained loyal to the British crown and at the close of the Revolution to have removed to Northern Vermont, thinking that he was within British territory, his name does not appear on the lists of the United Empire Loyalists, nor did he apply for lands as a Loyalist. Be that as it may, finding that his new place of residence was within the American lines, he, with his wife and widowed mother, ascended the St. Lawrence River and arrived in Adolphustown about a year after its first settlement by Van Alstine's party of Loyalists. He obtained his grant of land near the shores of Carnahan's Bay, now Perch Cove, where he erected and operated the first iron foundry in this district. In this foundry he built the first mould board plows in Ontario.

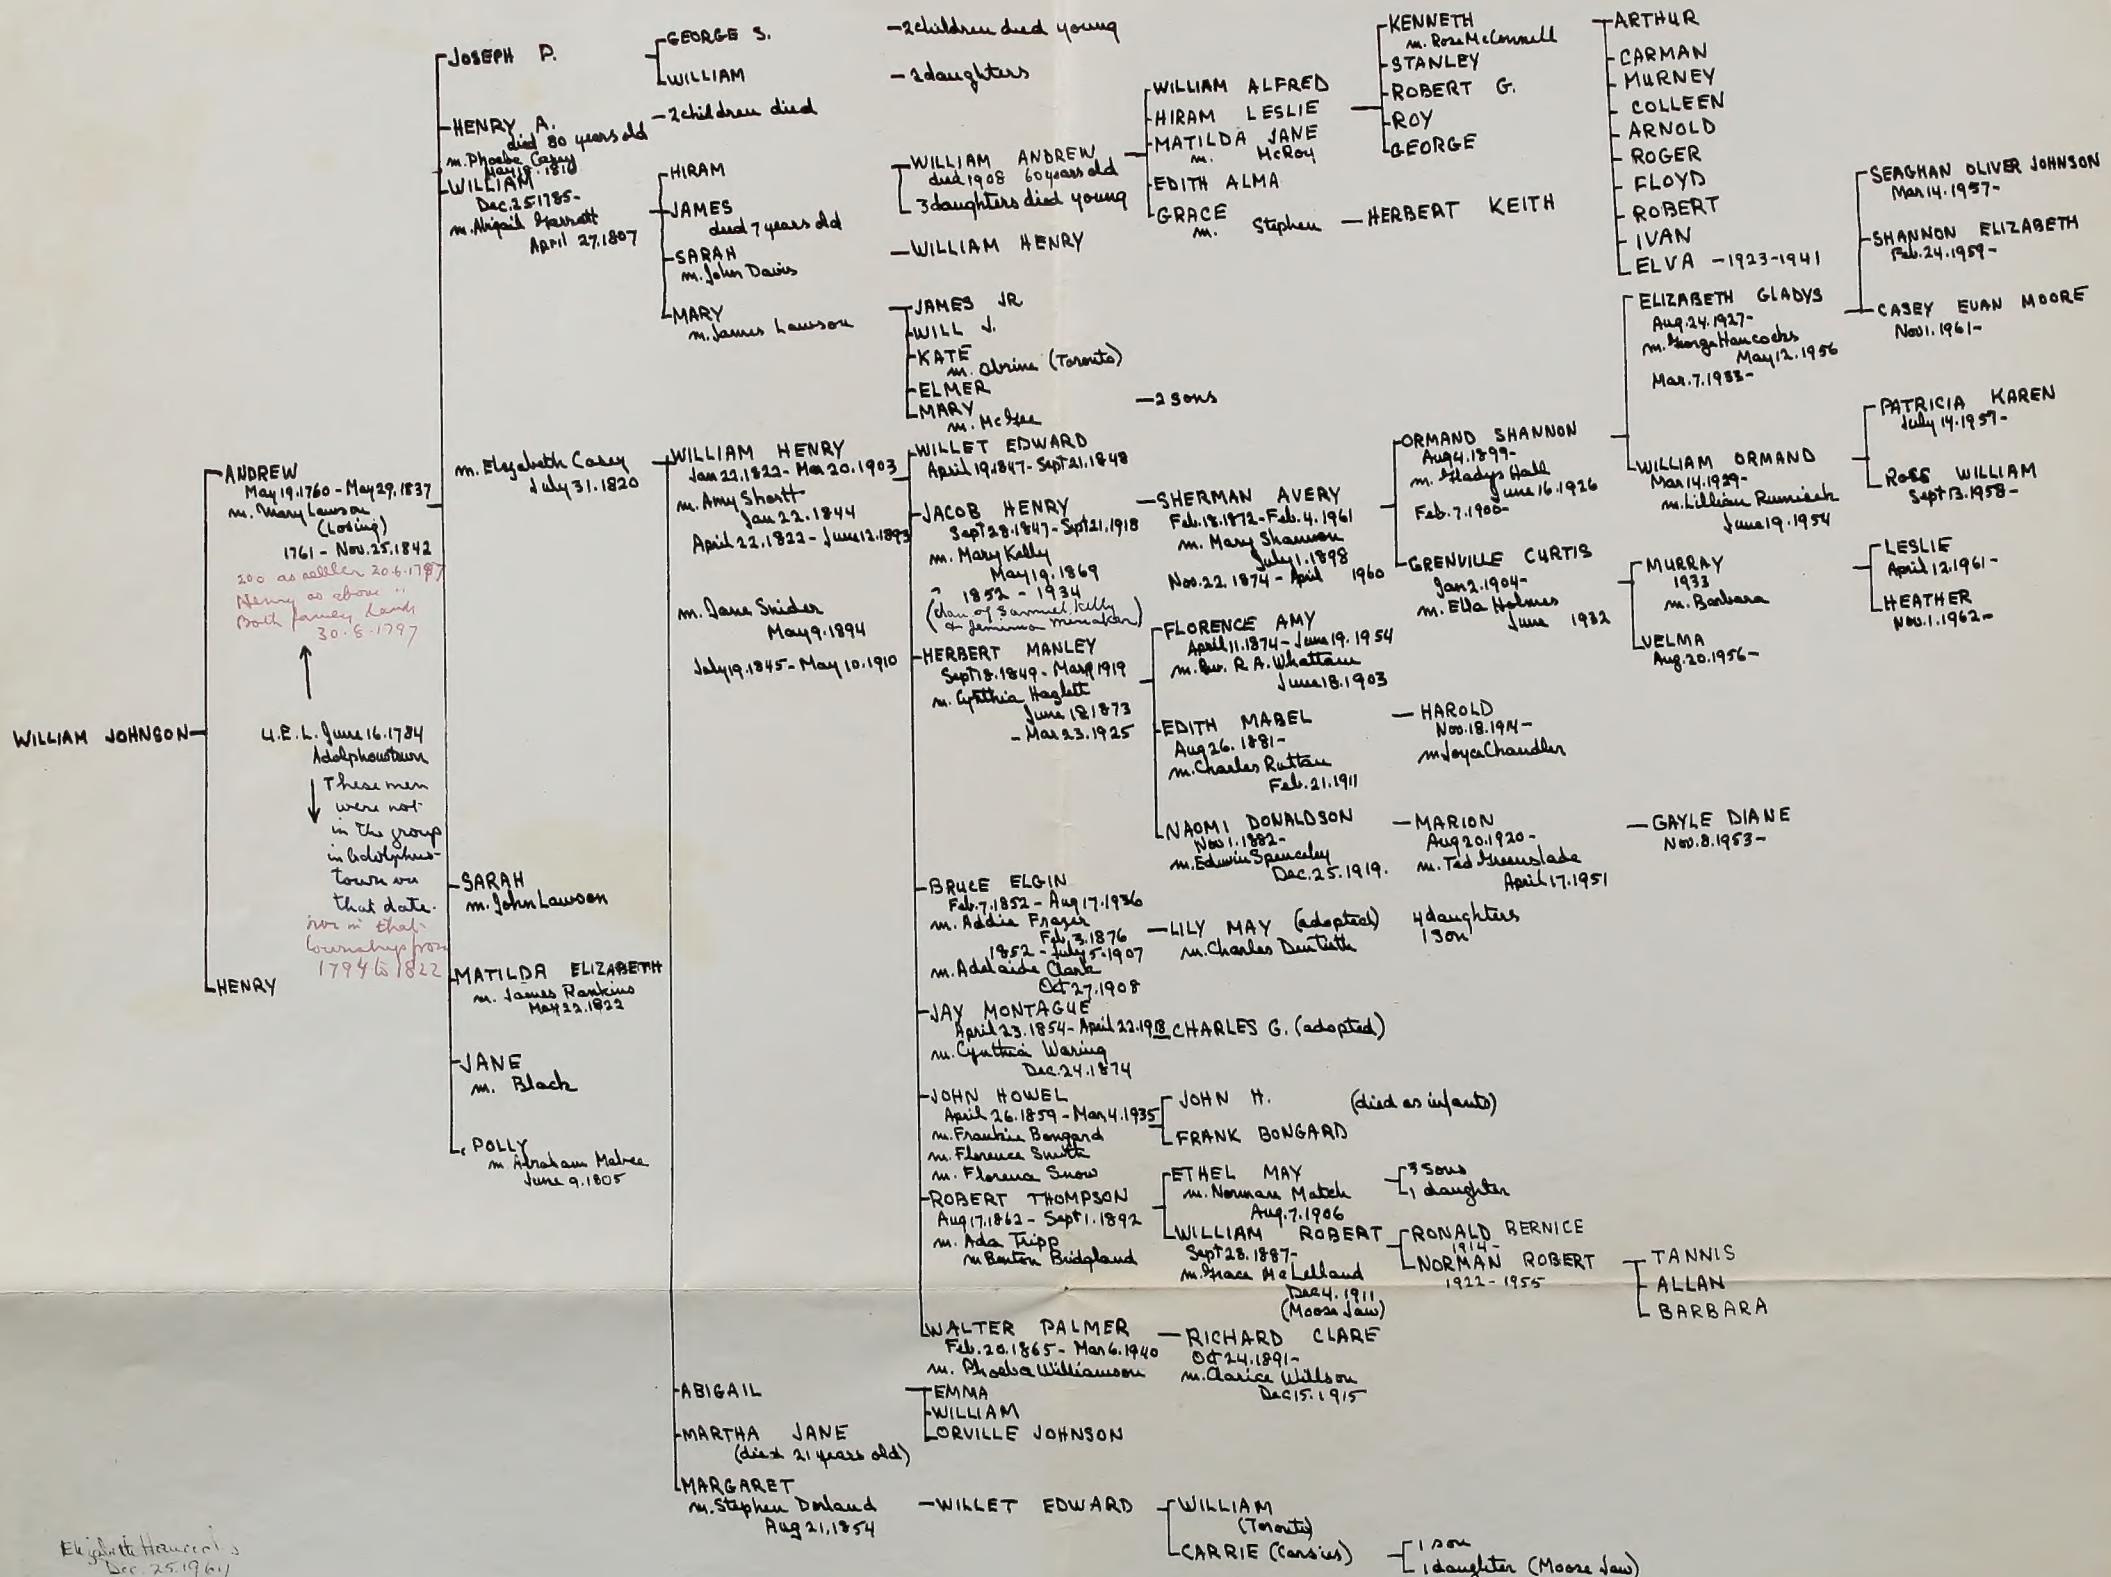

Willet Casey took an active interest in the politics of early Ontario. He not only served for many years in various offices in the township, but also represented his constituency in the parliament of Upper Canada in 1811-12 and again in 1817-20. He married Jane Niles, a member of an early Prince Edward County family, and was the father of ten children, six of whom have left descendants still resident along the shores of the Bay of Quinte.

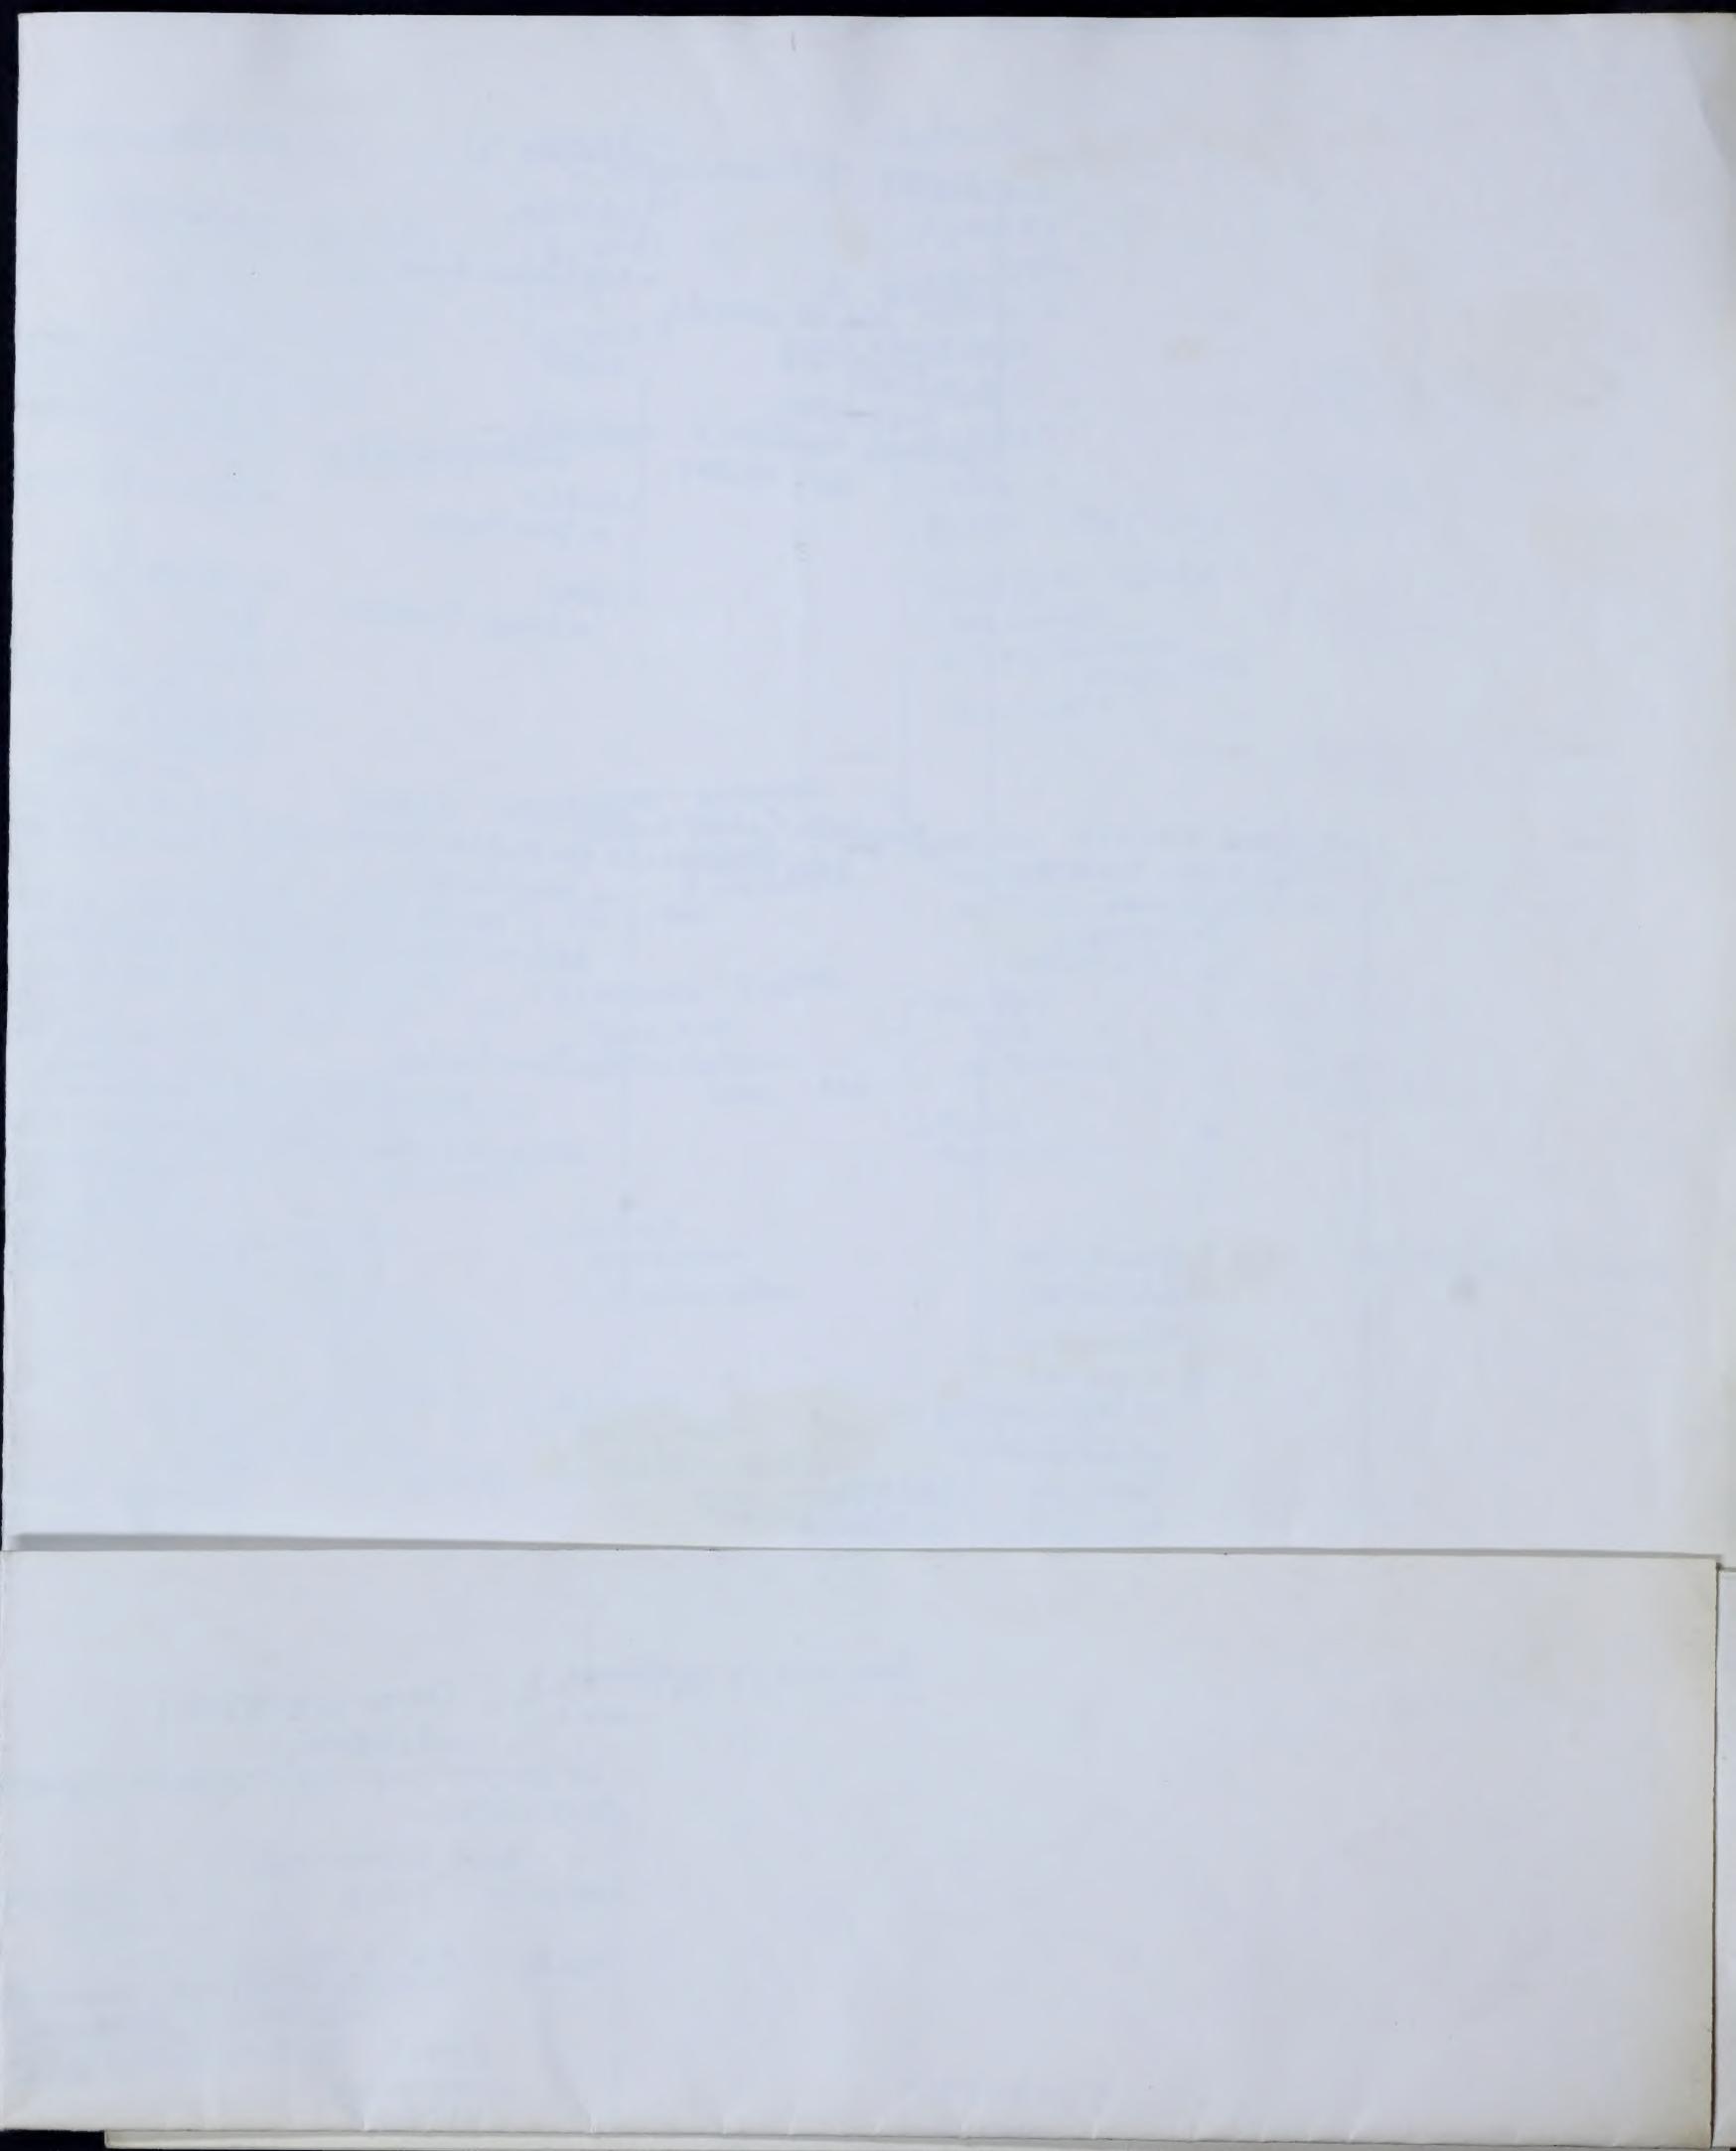

William, the elder brother of Willet Casey, came to Adolphustown in 1786. He settled in that portion of the township situated north of Hay Bay. Records indicate that William adhered to the British crown during the Revolution and that he was a Master Carpenter in the Quartermaster General's Department at Yorktown. He is recorded as having operated the first carding mill in Glenora at the turn of the nineteenth century. Like his brother, William was a Quaker. Later, however, he appears to have joined the Methodist Church, and is recorded as being a member of the first Methodist class formed in Ontario. He also served as a trustee of the old Hay Bay Chapel, the oldest Methodist Church in Canada, which still stands of the shore of Hay Bay. William died in 1842, aged 82 years, and by his wife, Martha Robinson, had five children, all of whom married and reared their families in the Bay district.

While the name of Casey no longer appears in the old township, descendants may be found to this day amongst families of the Bay of Quinte region--Barker, Weeks, Dorland, Bedell, Ingersoll, Wells, Roblin, Williams, Denison, Ketcheson, Clapp, Wilson, Fretz, and many others. Several descendants became prominent men in their day. Samuel, a son of Willet, was a member of parliament in 1821. Dr. Willet Casey Dorland, a grandson of Willet, was elected member of parliament for Prince Edward County. The late Thomas W. Casey, for many years owner and editor of the Napanee Express, was an authority on the Loyalists, and his interesting articles on the history of the early settlement have added greatly to our knowledge of our forefathers and their times.

will affect us immediately and perhaps more directly than any previous war. We must therefore make every effort to keep ourselves informed concerning the political situation in our home country and anything which has happened or is occurring overseas. We must also do our best to keep up our knowledge of current events, politics and economics, whatever you selected as interests at the present time and having knowledge of the general state of society and the people we are dealing with. Books and papers and such like can be obtained from libraries and the news will be easier there. Little pleasure is gained from reading old books, papers of long ago, or news written a long time ago because they do not tell us what is happening now. I would suggest you visit your local library, either through school, hospital, public administration, etc., to get some reading material, something you can understand. I would suggest you consider reading some of the many books on the war, such as "The War of the Nations" by John G. Chapman, which will tell what has been done by each country. You

Born Oct 25th 1834 son of Willet Casey who was son of Willet ~~Casey~~.

Decreas was a descendant of U.S. Loyalists who landed on the shores of Adolphustown while it was yet a wilderness, at the close of the American rebellion, loyally preferring to endure loss of property and hardship that they might remain under the old flag. Two of his family who landed at Adolphustown were his grand uncle, Willet Casey and his grandfather, W^m Casey. They were natives of Providence, R.I. and both were active in the American War, & left for Canada at its close. They first moved to the western border of Lake Champlain, supposing it was British territory, but finding this was not so when the international boundary was finally settled, they left for Upper Canada. Willet Casey died in 1848, aged 86 yrs. W^m Casey, deceased's grandfather died in 1842 aged 81 yrs. They were progressive men.

Willet Casey erected the first iron foundry in the district, "probable, near 'Carroll's Bay,'" in the 2d con. of Adolphustown, & is said to have cast the first iron mould-board plows known to be made in the province. He was also elected to parliament in ^{1811-12 and 1817-20} ~~1811-12~~, and sat for a few years. Late on his son, James, was elected to that position, and in still later years his grandson, Dr. Willet Casey ^{Portland}, was elected for Prince Edward County. W^m Casey, grandfather of deceased, brother erected the first wood-carding mill, located at first at Lake-on-the-Mountain, now Glencoe, early in the century.

Dear Dr. Burleigh-

Enclosed please find my Casey family tree. If you have any alterations to suggest I would be pleased to hear from you. I have used various sources to arrive at this tree; Thomas Willet Casey's tree in the Lennox and Addington collection, Reid Index, a Casey bible at the Adolphustown museum, cemetary records and census records. I agree with Mr. Valleeau that Samuel, son of Willet, married Cynthia Sharp, and that Samuel, son of William, married Hannah Johnson. I don't know exactly where that leaves Reid's Index, as far as their saying that Samuel Robinson married Cynthia Sharp, is concerned.

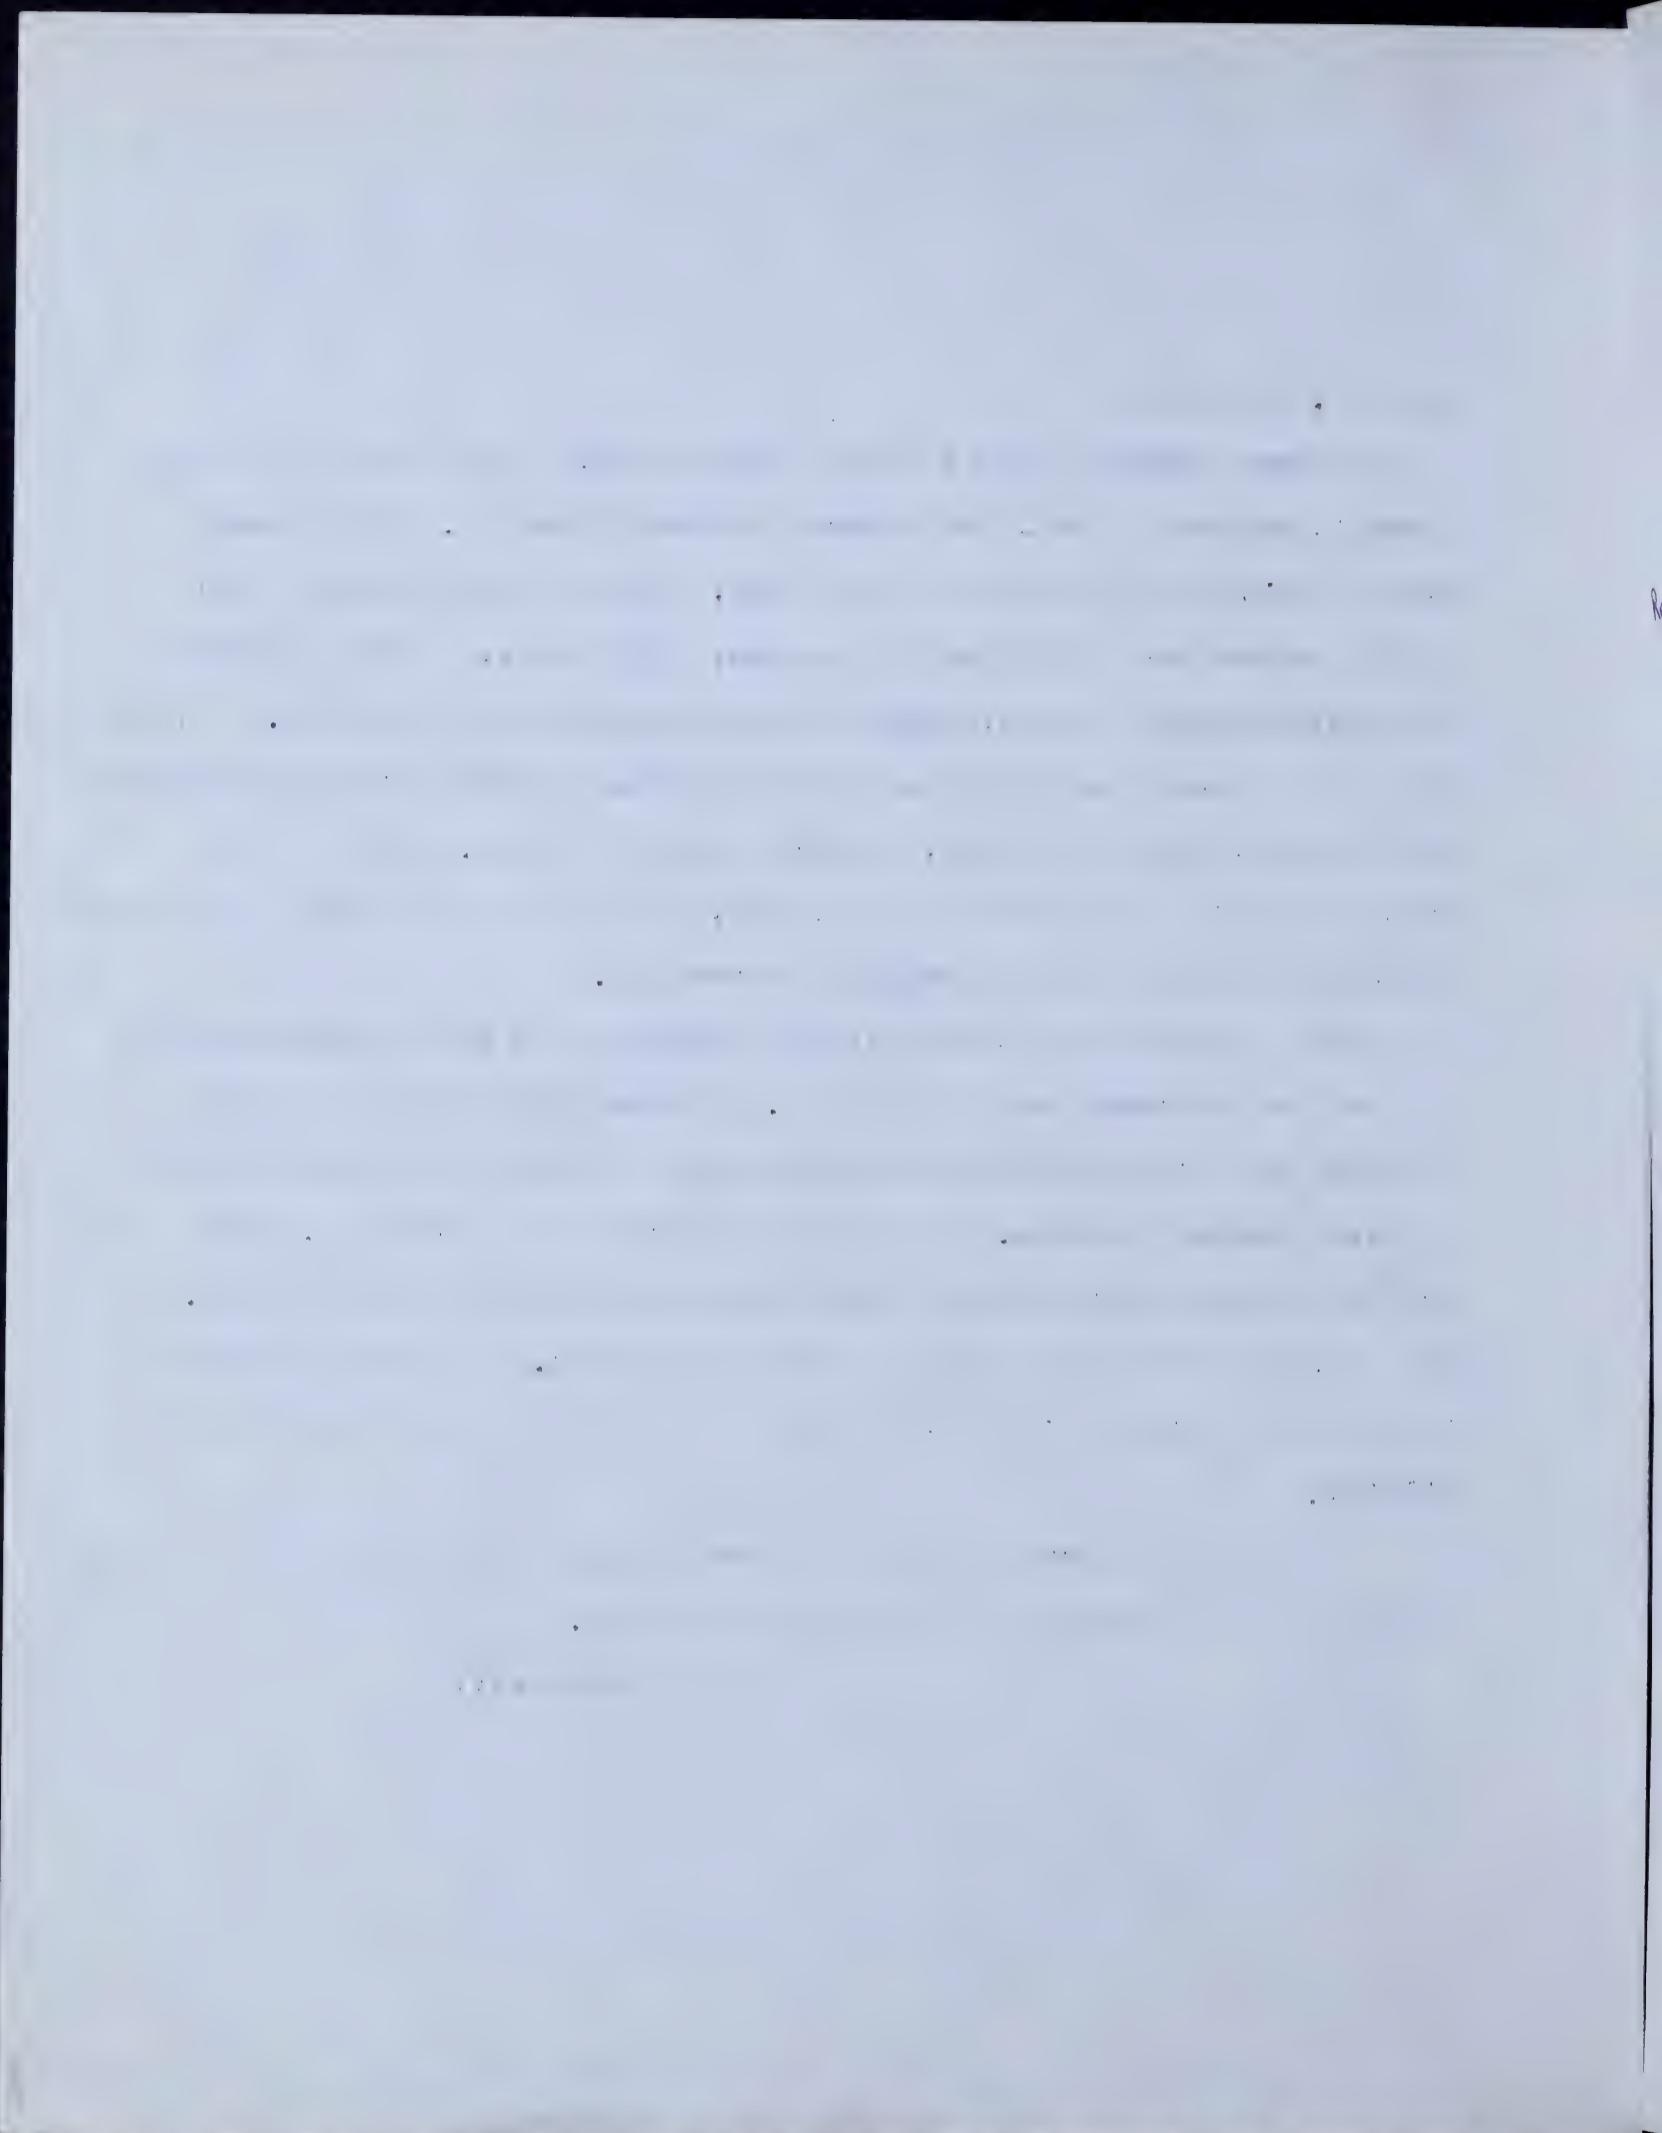

What I would like to know is who William, the son of William Casey and Martha Robinson, was married to. I think that this must be the William that my gggg grandmother Elizabeth was married to before she married William Johnson. And their son must be the Samuel T. Casey whom you say was married to Sarah Van Blaicom and later to Lydia McKim. Do you by any chance know what her maiden name was. I do not understand why there is a record of who every other Casey was married to except this William.

I hope that you will find this tree usefull and if you have anything to add to it I hope that you will let me know.

Yours sincerely,

Elizabeth Hancock,

Dear Dr. Burleigh-

I received your answer to my letter about the Casey's yesterday and I appreciate very much your taking the time to answer. Since I wrote to you I have found some additional information about them which I would like to tell you about.

While reading some old marriage records at the office of the Register-General in Toronto I came across the marriage, in Frontenac Co., of Samuel T. Casey 54 of Sydney, son of William and Elizabeth Casey, to Lydia McKinn 42 of Ernestown, dau. of James and Hannah, on 15 Sept. 1862. Thus, this Samuel would have been born about 1807, when according to our family bible, our Samuel was born. It also says that his father was William Casey, not Samuel.

I have a Casey family tree which I got from the Lennox and Addington collection at the Public Archives in Ottawa and I have found a William on it who would have been the right age to have been the father of this Samuel. He was the son of William Casey and Martha Robinson, who also had six daughters, one of whom was married to Henry A. Johnson, a brother of my William Johnson. They also had two other sons- Willet Casey, father of Thomas W. of Napanee, who put this tree together, and Samuel who was married to Cynthia Sharp. The brother William was named but no dates or name of whom he may have married.

You mentioned in your letter that you had information on this William Casey branch so I am wondering if, by any good chance, you have anything about the son William. Another thing which makes me think that this may be the man is that we have the will of William Casey and Martha Robinson and I never could figure out why it should be in Johnson papers.

I am sorry to bother you with this problem again when I know that you are so busy but I hope you will have time to check this for me and see whether or not he could possibly have been married to an Elizabeth and to see if you have a maiden name for her.

I appreciate your help more than I can say and if I can be of any help to you please just let me know.

3.(c) Samuel Jr. son of Samuel and Darcas (Ellis) Casey, b. 1724 - m. 1753 - Martha Martin. On Apr 3 1745 made freeman of Exeter R.I. Moved to
So. Kingstown R.I. early 1750. On May 5 1752 took oath in So. Kingstown.
In 1758 became J.P.

Samuel Casey left examples of his craftsmanship in Silver which are the 'prize de resistance' of collectors especially in New England, (Mass & Conn.) Authorities now feel that Samuel Casey was ^{supposed to be} a pupil of Jacob Hurd of Boston Mass (1703-1758) whose work in Silver is classical. (Kathryn L. Buhler, Boston Manuscript Soc. Mar 30, 1940). Pieces are prized possessions of private collectors and of Boston Museum, Nelson Brady ^{of Brown} collection of Yale University. This life and silversmith has been described by William Davis Miller in his "The Silversmith at Little Rest" with some account of his prosecution as a counterfeiter and his escape in 1770 by the connivance of friends to the British probably in Vermont. The Rhode Island Historical Society Collections has accounts in October 1929 further to his silver craftsmanship. The marks were S: CASEY, and S:C, small. The former was usually in an in a rectangle and the latter in an oval.

Samuel Casey is supposed to have learned his trade in Newport R.I.
where there were excellent craftsmen but none in Exeter at that time.
In 1750 he purchased land in So. Kingstown a few miles south of the village of "Little Rest" now Kingston R.I. Here he plied his trade. In 1763 his house was destroyed by fire from a too hot forge. He then moved to a new location.

George Casey b. 1726 - had same skill as a silversmith. In 1753 at So. Kingstown he started partnership with his brother Samuel which lasted ten years. He then moved to Warwick and out of all records.

The vital statistics of Rhode Island provide his issue:

(1) Mary b. So. Kingstown R.I. Feb 5 1754. m. Edward Barker, Set. Barker's Point	U.C.
(2) Sarah "	set. Poughkeepsie N.Y. Supposed.
(3) Samuel b.	" Feb 4 1758 m. Ruth 1777 from Urtstown to Landerburg Conn 'P.L.'
(4) Edw'ln b.	" July 25 1760 d 1842. m. Martha Robinson.
(5) Shillet b	" Feb 14 1764 (Tombstone says 1762 in Adolphustown) d. Mar 10 1848 m. Jane Miles (1763-1856)

3(e).5. Willet Casey 1764-1848, accompanied by his wife Jane Miles and his sons and widowed mother came from Vermont, joined Major Peter Van Alstyne's party and landed with the Associate Loyalists ⁹ June 16 1784 at Adolphustown, Canada. His brother William Casey shows as having come in 1786 as recorded in the Provincial Crown Lands Dept. Toronto, Ont.

Dear Mr. Bedell : The last lines from you were sent on Oct 18th 1934 and what a lot has happened since then! How genealogically I still keep my interest in the Casey family line, as from time to time the Bedell-Seymour line pops into the light! Your list of the Bedell family says the Rev. (1849) to Report Int Bureau of M. mentions Benjamin Bedell as a brother in law - I cannot find this in the back,
I did note that, pp 92, shows him as married to Elizabeth Clark of Somerton, April 3 1801, he died Feb 18 1810, his tombstone shows age as 40 yrs hence born 1770, his wife Elizabeth Clark died Aug 17th 1863 age 82 years. He would be 31 yrs. of age when he married Liz Clark, is it that his first wife, if any, may have been Bell?
His son Benjamin b. May 5 1805 moved to Bath and married a daug. of John McKenzie - this further distorts any idea of a Son being involved.

Where do you place the entries in the One Sheet Vol 1. Registry -
Wm Bedell = Peggy Bedell Mar 1813 (1845 vol 1 pp 82)
Geo W " = Susannah Brown, Fred'g, m, Apr 12 1832, (1845 vol 1 pp 92)
John Brewerman = Mary Bedell, Hallowell, m June 5 1805 (Vol 1. pp 74)
Isaac Smith = Jean " " " Mrs 19 1805 " " "

As for the Casey line - I have made considerable progress - not in the pre-Revolution period which does not matter - but in the Canadian era. One puzzle has been the placing of Lydia (1765-1836) wife of John Trull (1746-1830). They came to Newburgh
Aug 1794, she rode horseback, forded rivers, camped, & with her son John Casey Trull, Capt. (1798-1880) visited the Casleys at Adelphianstown. I do not know as to her relationship or even as to the dates - She is probably a sister to the children of Samuel Lasey (1724-1773) and Martha Martin &c :

Mary b. Feb 5 1754 m. Edward Barker, Settled
Sarah b. probably Settled New Jersey
Samuel b. Feb 4 1758 m. Ruth Settled New Jersey, 1758
William b. July 25 1760 m. Martha Robinson (1763-1840)
Willet b. Dec 14 1763 m. Jane Miles (1763-1855)

The Rhode Island Vital Statistics as quoted in the New England Register - this may be the collected family!

My beloved wife left no descendants I shall bequeath the children of the late Mr. & Mrs. B. B. B. & by the way B. B. B. will be copied in my Will, also for a memorial service, we can do nothing else.

I have numerous descendants and dates for both the brothers, which I hope to put in order - however the first ancestors are undated with authentic dates. This has not been easy, it took over seven years to break down some 2000 names to give this date & name died to the best of my knowledge.

Who is George Gore in Prince Edward, there was a William Cawdron there which I have heard about - is this near Halifax? Prince?

Would be glad to hear from you if you can add to the family line if you are interested.

Cordially
Frank A. Bullock

P.S. with omission of dates from Prince date books - lack of time in copying them or because they are not available - shall you work dates for Prince books?

I have numerous descendants and dates for

Names and Addresses of Officers

We are pleased to receive your inquiry, asking for the names and addresses of Officers of THE BAY OF QUINTE BRANCH.

This Branch is situated and operates within the general area of a very significant settlement of Loyalists. Should you find it convenient to visit the "Adolphustown - Bay of Quinte Area" you could find much to awaken historical meaning to the early days of settlement there.

Dear Dr. Burleigh,

I was wondering if you could help me with a genealogical problem that I have or maybe you could give me the name of someone in the family who could help me. The family is Casey and I am trying to find the maiden name of a woman named Elizabeth, born 8 Sept. 1788, in Canada according to the 1851 census, who was married to a Samuel Casey, who died before 1820 (when she remarried). They had a son Samuel, born 1807, they lived in Adolphustown and were supposed to have owned the first wagon in the district, according to family tradition.

I have a Casey genealogy made by Thomas W. Casey which I found in the Archives and there seems to be numerous Samuel's but none that I can fit into the dates I have. Maybe you can give me the name of someone in your area who is working on a Casey genealogy and who might be able to help me. I would certainly appreciate any information, advice or help.

Sincerely,

Mrs. George Hancock.

Mr. John Langdon,
43 Glen Brae Road,
Toronto 1, Ont.

Dear Mr. Langdon:

I should apologize for my letter forwarded to Mr. Tracy. I really have no right to recall you of a family name in the last one, so that it offends me.

You see, to this I referred, was exhibited privately by the Standard Library, Kingston, Ontario, in 1908. A copy, made up of 100, was given to me as a Christmas gift. It came to me from my mother. I do not know where she bought it.

My wife and I are interested in silver. We do not have much more than some fine silver, such as spoons. But, we are interested in the pieces of the past. Fortunately, most of these are English, with names such as

• J. Old - Silver - J. Bentworth - J. Cook - J. C. & F. S.

• J. Newell - Fine Silver - also - Hall - Birmingham

But, the ones we are interested in, and believe to be Canadian, are the large forks, part of a set of silver belonging to my wife's great grandfather, the silversmith of Victoria, 1777-1800, living in New York. The forks, which I will show you, are, in all, 1 1/2 ft.

2 ft. 6 in.
a 1/2 ft.
a church initial "J. B."

It is my feeling that such a piece could be used only in Canada. They belong to the period 1790-1800.

Of the New York silversmith, all I know is that the son of the counterfeiter(s) settled in Dolphustown prior to 1800. His life is described in "The Silversmith of Little Italy". As is known, he was to be hanged for counterfeiting, but made his escape to New York. Here, knowing they were within British lines, they settled. At the end of the revolution, the silversmith having died shortly before, consisting of the widow, her son, Miller and his wife, came to Dolphustown.

I am sorry if I give you the idea that I had published information about Joseph, the Silversmith. I can furnish more details about his children, if so desired.

This letter will do away with the strain of coming by Bath at some time in the future. Incidentally, I have not seen your second book. I must do that later in Kingston soon.

By way of apology for bothering you.

Sincerely

Will of Martha Casey Mar 5 1846

Box 1221, Napanee, Ont.

Dear Dr Burleigh:

We are planning to use some of Thomas W Casey's "Old Time Records" as part of the Society's forthcoming Papers and Records, Vol XIV. The Preliminary Inventory of the Collections of the Lennox and Addington Historical Society (PAC 1959) says of Thomas: "His father, Willet W Casey, a prominent political figure of his day, sat in the Legislative Assembly of Upper Canada from 1811 to 1812 and again from 1817 to 1820" (p.42). Vol X of the Society's Papers and Records records that Thomas' father was Willet W Casey, and later that Willet W Casey died in 1842 at the age of 82. Later it notes that Willet's wife, Jane, died in 1856 in her 93rd year. Thomas W Casey was born in 1834.

The above all sounds unlikely, since it would mean Thomas was sired by parents aged 74 and 76. I would appreciate very much your pointing out to me the errors in the above genealogical data. Your assistance in 1967 when I was doing some work on David Roblin and Schuyler Shibley is still remembered. I hate to repeat errors in secondary work, even though it was published by the Archives.

Yours sincerely,

J A Eadie

Jm Eadie

PS: In the case of Schuyler Shibley: he was indeed buried in Cataraqui cemetery, as you suggested, and was buried by a Methodist minister. He died December 18, 1890, not in 1836 as Herrington records (p.408).

Dear Mrs. Hancock:

I have your second letter re the Caseys. I had better say, at this time, that I made a mistake when I said I had a copy of Mrs. Casey's genealogy. What I have is a genealogy prepared and sent to me many years ago by the late David Wallen, of Oshawa, who died about 1944. I also have some Casey notes from the Reed Index of sons and daughters of U. S. Loyalists, together with some isolated references to various branches of the family.

Could you copy Thomas Casey's genealogy, or loan it to me for a very short time. Otherwise, there is much confusion. People keep confusing the two families of William and his brother Alcott. The confusing feature can best be explained by this diagram Valleau says that it was Samuel, son of Willett, who married Cynthia Sharp. Reid Index calls Cynthia's husband to be Samuel Robinson, son of William, U.E. Valleau says that Samuel Robinson Casey married Hannah Colinson.

My file says that Samuel T., son of William Thorn Casey and Elizabeth, married Sarah Van Blaricom. You have him, aged 44, as a widower, 15 Sept., 1862, Lydia McKim, aged 42. I assume that this is a second marriage.

Your chart of the Johnson family has one confusing item. This can be cleared if you mean that Elizabeth Casey was second wife of William Johnson.

Then, to make the issue more confusing, the Peel Index has a Elizabeth, daughter of William Casey, U. E., as married to William Thorn. She, or he, which I am not sure, was granted 200 acres of land by Order-in-Council, dated H.M. 15 March, 1827. A Xerox copy obtained from the Public Archives, Ottawa, of this Order-in-Council should clear the matter. In other words, was she a Casey or the wife of a Casey? If you should ask for this item, please let me know what it says.

That is enough to worry about for the moment.

Yours sincerely,

William 7.20.90, a master Carpenter in the Quartermaster General's Dept. at New York last war, applies for 800 acres. The Board at Mecklenburg doubt whether as Master Carpenter he is entitled to that quantity. His claim for 200 acres (family lands) is rejected by the Board; and they think that at all events, he is not entitled to more than 500, in which this Committee concurs.

II 7.20.90 The Committee of the whole Council in the case of William Carey, one of the opinion that he is entitled to no more than 200 acres of land.

(William) M. 6.28.94 settled on lots No 24 + 25 in the 4th concession on a point of land where he found a small vacancy of about 26 acres, convenient for building upon, prays the same may be granted him for that purpose, as there is no convenient situation on either said lots. Ref. to Surv. Gen. to report thereon.

Canniff's History of the Settlement of Upper Canada

Willet Casey was born in Rhode Island. His father was killed in battle during the war. At the close of the war he settled near Lake Champlain, upon what he supposed to be British territory, but finding such was not the case, and although he had made considerable clearing, he removed again. Turning his steps toward Upper Canada with his aged mother and wife, he reached in due time, the 4th township. The family, upon arriving, found shelter in a blacksmith's shop until a log hut could be built. Three months afterwards the old mother died. Willet Casey had a brother in a company of horsemen, who fought for the British. He remained in the States and went South. It is probably the descendants of this Casey, who took an active part in the late civil war in the United States.

The writer has seen the fine, erect old couple that came to Canada, when on the verge of eighty, and two nobler specimens of nature's nobility could not be imagined.

Personal Notes.

The Caseys.

The Caseys.— Willet Casey, one of the first officers elected, was a U. E. L., a native of Providence, Rhode Island. He and his brother William were both active in the American war, and left for Canada at its close. He first moved to the western border of Lake Champlain, supposing that he was in British territory, but finding he was not so when the international boundary was finally fixed, he left all there and moved to Upper Canada, living and dying in Adolphustown. He died in 1848, aged 86 years. His brother William died in 1842, aged 81 years. They were strong and active men, and were officers of the township in some capacity for many years. Willet erected the first iron foundry in the district probably, near "Carnahan's Bay," 2nd concession, and is said to have cast the first iron mould-board ploughs known to be made in the Province. William erected the first wool-carding mill, located at first at Lake-on-the-Mountain, now Glenora, early in the century. Willet was elected to Parliament in about 1811, and sat for a few years. Later on, in about 1836, his son Samuel was elected to that position. In late years his grandson, Dr. Willet Casey Dorland, was elected for Prince Edward County. Willet Casey was a Quaker; his brother William a Methodist, a member of the first class formed and a trustee of the first church built. They both reared large families, and there are yet numerous descendants, but not one of the name now resides in the township.

and contact results with all the years. This will help us analyze trends and see what's changed in terms of what we are doing and is most important our users and who we work with.
And also, obviously, it's important how the market has changed over time.
And I think that's the main thing you want to know and I hope you find your answers to some of these questions. So that's all I have for today and I hope you have a great evening. Thank you and thank you for attending today and for following up. I hope you have a great day.

The American Antiques Journal

"One of the ablest silversmiths of the eighteenth century was Samuel Casey. The Boston News Letter of October 1, 1764, tells of his house being destroyed by fire. Casey was later arrested, tried and convicted and sentenced to hang for the crime of counterfeiting Portuguese and Spanish coins current in the colony. Released from prison by a mob, he escaped and disappeared."
